Mommy's Messages – A Great Way To Show You Care

As a parent, there are many times when you want to be able to lift up our kids (or ourselves) to have a great day, to tell them we care or that we are simply with them in spirit. Here is where Mommy's Messages comes in. These innovative, colorful little notes let people know you care. You simply slip them into lunch boxes, pillows or pockets, and surprise someone you love with meaningful messages that say so much about how you care.

I loved the messages that these products provided as well as how easy they were to use. Granted, they are set up for someone who can read, so they are geared toward older children, but still, younger kids can appreciate the wonderful images that are shared on the little cards as well.

So bygone are the days of simple slips of paper or sandwiches cut into special shapes, instead, you can use these innovative cards to put a smile on someone special's face!

This post was written for Mommy's Messages who provided the complimentary product in exchange for my honest review.

Something small like this really does make a person's day!!
I would love to be able to get a surprise in my pocket or lunch box like that 😊
What a great product!
